United States Warships on Way To Turkey to Protect Americans

MISSIONARIES VICTIMS IN MASSACRE

Sultan Appears on the Streets and Receives Loud Cheers

CONSTANTINOPLE, Apr. 23.--According to consular despatches there has been no cessation of the massacre in the Antioch districts and the people are fleeing in every direction. The French vice-consul at Marash telegraphs that order has been restored at that point.

GUANTANAMO, Cuba, April 23.--The American cruisers Montana and North Carolina left here at 11:15 a. m. today for Asiatic Turkey. They are fully coaled and in fine trim, and it is confidently expected they will make a record run to Turkish waters.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Apr. 23.--The Sultan appeared upon the streets of Constantinople today and was greeted by the people with cries of adoration. With a mask-like countenance and his head sunk between his stooped shoulders he acknowledged salutations from the throng by curt nods.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Apr. 23.--It is reported here today that at the secret session of the National Assembly held at San Stefano yesterday 150 deputies voted in favor of the deposition of the Sultan.

BEIRUT, April 23.--The Armenian population of Antioch and vicinity has been practically wiped out in the massacres of the last few days by Moslems. There are thousands of destitute Armenian widows and orphans still in the district unable to get away. There is no security anywhere in the vicinity of Antioch.

The situation in Alexandretta continues critical. Beilan is still holding out against the tribesmen that surround it. Beirut is quiet as yet, but there is great tension between the Christian and Moslem populations.

Troops are arriving here and the authorities are taking forceful measures for the preservation of order. Many people are leaving Beirut for the Lebanon. The

Charging Husband With Trying to Cut Her Throat, Woman Sues for Divorce

Arthur T. Davis, vice-grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of California, who has announced himself a candidate for the grand chancellorship of the State at the annual convocation of the Grand Lodge of the order at Santa Cruz next week was sued today in the Superior Court by Minnie Davis for an absolute divorce on ground of extreme cruelty. Davis is yardmaster of the Santa Fe at Point Richmond and is one of the best known railroad men in the bay region, and on account of his prominence in Pythian circles has a large circle of friends throughout the State.

The complaint filed by Mrs. Davis recites that the couple were married in San Francisco in April, 1902, and that since their wedding defendant has treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner. On the 23d day of last November, according to the document, Davis assaulted his wife with a razor and tried to cut her throat with it. Plaintiff says that he was only prevented from murdering her by the arrival of assistance in her in response to her shrieks for help. The alleged murderous assault was the culmination of a row between Davis and his wife over ownership of their household furniture according to plaintiff, who alleges that her husband demanded of her that she sign an agreement to release her interest in the furniture, threatening to cut her throat and throw her down stairs if she refused. Davis is a man of large stature and extraordinary physical strength and his wife sets forth that when he made the rush at her with the razor she feared for her life and cried out for help. Plaintiff alleges that Davis has abused and reviled her and called her vile names at times too numerous to mention, and that by reason of his physical brutalities and the mental suffering his acts of cruelty have caused her, her health has been permanently impaired.

Hits His Wife With Broomstick And Chokes Her; Seeks Divorce

Alleging that her husband, John I. Van Dusen, of 1212 Lincoln avenue, Alameda, has for two years inflicted upon her bodily injury and grievous mental suffering by his extreme cruel conduct, Mrs. Othello Van Dusen filed a suit for divorce today in the Oakland courts. The Van Dusens were married on December 19, 1888. They have lived in this city for two years and have three children, Otto Van Dusen, aged 12; Vivian, aged 11, and Helen, who is 7 years of age. In her complaint the plaintiff charges that her husband struck her and at

Capitalist Shoots Pet Dog Woman Causes His Arrest

Cooke, a retired capitalist, of 1027 Church street, is now spending his time in the city prison. Police Judge Shortall having ordered him into custody this morning when Miss Catherine Cooke, the owner of the dead puppy, appeared in court with vengeance in her eye, determined to see that the life of her pet should be dearly paid for.

STEWART DIES IN EASTERN HOSPITAL

Venerable Ex-Senator From Nev., After Weeks of Illness, Succumbs to Operation

HAD REPRESENTED STATE 28 YEARS IN CONGRESS

Dean of Western Statesmen Was Well Known Figure at National Capital

WASHINGTON, April 23.--William A. Stewart of Nevada died at the Georgetown hospital here today following an operation. The body will be taken to Nevada Sunday. Mr. Stewart had been at the hospital since March 30. On March 31 he underwent an operation, the nature of which the physicians have not made public. A week ago his condition became worse and he sank steadily until this morning when at 7:05 o'clock he passed away. Mr. Stewart was 82 years of age and had been a familiar figure in the city during the better part of the last half century. For twenty-eight years altogether he represented Nevada in the Senate, a period between 1875 and 1897 intervening to prevent a continuous service record from 1867 to 1895.

Stewart's former home on Dupont Circle in this city was long one of the landmarks of the National Capital, but it is today in the center of the fashionable residence section, a bare lot with only the cellar excavation telling the story of the pulling down of that historic structure. Senator Wm. A. Clark of Montana planned to build a palatial structure on the lot, but after the passing of the old residence and the agreement over the plans, never replaced it and built the Clark home in New York instead.

Notable Speeches

Stewart made many notable speeches on the floor of the Senate in advocacy of silver and his characterization of the denigration of silver as the "vandalism of a nation in political history." After his retirement from Congress he divided his time between Washington, where he had many guests during his life, and his long white horse and Virginia, and the West, where at his old home, at Bull Run, Nev., and elsewhere he had varied mining interests and experiences.

Almost all of the old residents of Washington and many of the new knew Stewart either personally or by sight, for his tall figure, topped with a wide-brimmed sort hat and his long white hair and his countenance so clear as a youth's were conspicuous on the streets of the city.

Mr. Stewart was the living incarnation of Santa Claus and appealed strongly to children. He went west from New York in the early days of California gold and worked as an every-day miner.

When Bryan ran for President in 1896 Stewart was a Republican. He at once cast his vote in the interest of free silver, whatever the attitude of his party. Born in New York. Born in Livingston, Wayne county, New York August 9, 1827, William Morris Stewart saw nearly eighty-two years of life. At thirteen he was sent on his own resources, but by manual labor and his own efforts he made enough money to send a few years at Yale. In 1850 the lure of gold caught him and he came to California by way of Panama for two years he panned the pick and shovel in Nevada county. There he superintended the construction of a twenty-mile canal, which he still has in use. In the spring of 1852 he began to study law, and before the snow fell that year he was appointed district attorney of his county. The next election gave him a full term in the office. In 1854 he was appointed attorney general of California.

The discovery of the great Comstock lode caused Stewart to shift the scene of his operations to Virginia City, Nev. There he took part in the litigation over the bonanza property and gained fame as a lawyer. He was a strong union man, and when Nevada was admitted as a State he became one of its first United States senators. He was one of the leaders in the battle to prevent the denigration of silver, but despite his opposition to what he always called the "crime of 73" he had to give way in 1875 to William Sharon, a mining millionaire. Stewart went back to the law, but while making fortunes at the bar and losing them in speculation he always kept his eye on the seat from which an ungrateful corporation had ousted him. Sharon served his term and was succeeded by James G. Fair, another mining millionaire. Stewart waited patiently. As Fair's term drew to a close Stewart began to repair his political fences. He was apparently defeated at the polls, but Stewart managed to squeeze through and despite charges of corruption, regained his old place in the United States Senate.

Slaughter Houses in Butchertown to Be Abolished, He Says

District Attorney Donahue announced this afternoon that it is his intention to proceed immediately to abolish the slaughterhouses on the bay front in what is known as "Butcher Town," and occupying areas in Oakland, Emeryville and Berkeley.

There are about sixteen thousand people residing and doing business adjacent to these slaughterhouses, and they have entered repeated and vigorous protests against the filthy manner in which they have been operated. The District Attorney says that these plants as they are now being conducted are in direct violation of the statute prohibiting the maintenance of public nuisances, and he says that unless something is done by the operators to improve conditions and relieve the people of the obnoxious surroundings he will prosecute them to the limit of the law and have them fined heavily. He says that included in his threatened prosecution is also the Paraffine Paint Company, whose plant is also located in "Butcher Town."

Thug Levels Revolver In Face of Saloonman

Pete Marenko, proprietor of a saloon at Fifth and Magnolia streets, was alone in the place about 10 o'clock last night when a stranger entered and ordered a drink. Turning his back in order to reach for the bottle the man indicated, Marenko was instantly covered with a revolver and ordered to put up his hands. He complied with the demands of the hold-up, who leisurely probed the till, from which he extracted $10.40. He helped himself to a few big drinks, lit a cigar and still covering Marenko with a revolver, he coolly backed out of the place. "The victim of the hold-up is satisfied that the man must have had an accomplice on guard outside, for he did not seem the least apprehensive suddenly interrupted by the entrance of the

Mystery Shrouds Suicide

MANILA, April 23.--Lieutenant Albert N. Brunzell, of the First Brigade Marines, was found dead in the rear of his quarters at Olongapo with his throat cut. It is not known whether the young officer committed suicide or met with foul play. The naval authorities are investigating Brunzell had just successfully passed an examination for promotion to a captaincy. He was appointed to the marine corps from Idaho, his native state, in February, 1908. WASHINGTON, April 23.--A dispatch received at marine headquarters says Lieutenant Brunzell had committed suicide. His father has been notified and the body will be brought home.

MY HEART IS BROKEN, SOBS DIVORCEE

Dr. C. O. Southard of Berkeley Enjoys Company of Stage Beauty

OVER 30 PHOTOGRAPHS OF HER IN HIS ROOM

Caught in Act of Loving His Favorite; Pleads For Secrecy

Minnie Z. Southard of 1138 Adeline street is no longer the wife of Dr. C. O. Southard, the prominent aurist and oculist of Berkeley and San Francisco. Late last evening Superior Judge Wells granted her an interlocutory decree of divorce from the specialist on the ground of extreme cruelty, awarding her $40 a month as alimony, beginning with April 22, until the further order of the court.

The proceedings in this suit were guarded with the utmost secrecy, and although the complaint was filed two months ago the fact that such an action had been instituted did not become generally known until the signing of the decree by Judge Wells.

According to the uncontradicted testimony of Mrs. Southard, her husband having allowed the suit to go by default, it was a stage affinity that came into the life of the doctor and broke up the happy home of the Southards. This affinity was Miss Freda Wisher, an acrobat and professional chorus girl, and the testimony in the case, which was taken before Court Commissioner Crowell to avoid an appearance in open court, tells the story of the Southards' family troubles in detail.

The Southards were married in San Francisco on September 19, 1900, and Mrs. Southard ceased to live with her husband after the death of her mother on January 19, last. She testified that she was ordered out of her own home by her husband's father and mother, who had been living with her at 2519 Geneva avenue, Berkeley. Southard's father simply told her that the house was his, although her husband had repeatedly assured her that he owned it, and that she was in the way and would have to go.

Fond of Husband "My husband was in the house at the time," said Mrs. Southard, "and he said he didn't care if he never saw me again. This broke my heart, because I had always been fond of my husband." Up to the time that the doctor's affidavit was filed, the doctor's affidavit was not known.

It's a chance of a lifetime. In all our years of business we have never made an offer like this—It's worth investigating, we will promise you that.

AMONG THE 46 TO BE CLEARED OUT ARE THE FOLLOWING—THEY'VE ALL BEEN USED:

- One magnificent Steinway Baby Grand—in fine shape.
- One beautiful Steinway Rosewood Upright—good as new.
- One Chickering Concert Grand—excellent condition.
- One Chickering Baby Grand—used by prominent teacher. (These two Chickering's will be sold very cheap. They are in our basement because we have no room on our floor.)
- One Valiant Emerson Upright—could be sold for new.
- One Baby Upright—was Polish cathedral oak—perfect.
- One large Kohler & Chase Upright—good for practice.
- One Sterling Inside Player Piano—with $25 worth of music.
- Two Angelus Cabinet Players—in splendid shape.
- Also about 30 other fine second-hand Uprights and Grands that have been re-tuned to private parties and teachers.

We MUST sell them all—Come in without delay—Terms can be arranged to suit you—Almost any proposition will be acceptable.

WARNING: We are informed that solicitors are calling from house to house, soliciting tuning and repairing in our name and selling a so-called "Emerson Piano Polish," supposed to be used by us. These persons are impostors—we have no men soliciting work of any kind—they are obtaining money under false pretenses and should be arrested at once.

SUNDAY'S DESSERT

A great dessert for half a dollar

- The brick we expect to make next Sunday will be one of the prettiest frozen desserts we ever turned out.
- It will be made of Fresh Strawberries frozen into heavy cream, Hawaiian Pineapple Ice and Maple Walnut Ice Cream. This makes an exceedingly beautiful combination and at the same time a most delicious dessert.
- The strawberries are all carefully selected and the finest on the market; they are crushed and frozen with pure berry cream of extra heavy grade.
- The pineapple ice is made of Hawaiian pineapples and is already well known as one of Mr. Lehnhardt's finest ices. The pure juice of the ripe pineapple is used.
- The maple and walnut section of this brick is exceedingly fine. Pure Vermont maple sugar and crushed English walnuts are used with heavy cream.
- These desserts are made of the very finest ingredients that it is possible to obtain; no expense is spared in their making. This is why they are so fine and accounts, absolutely, for their popularity—it is simply a reward of merit.
- If you call at the store Sunday and carry the brick home with you, we will deliver it, packed in ice in a freezer, for 50c.
- If you deliver it, packed in ice in a freezer, for 80c.
- SPECIAL—Puffed rice balls will be made special all day tomorrow and Sunday. You can get all you want for two bits. They're fine.

CATCH DESERTER IN WOMAN'S ATTIRE

Henry Gallagher Attends the Military Ball on Alcatraz Island

WATCHES MERRY DANCERS UNTIL ESCAPE IS KNOWN

Found By Searchers in Locker and Taken Back to Prison Handcuffed

Bold and ingenious as any conception of the imaginative writers of fiction was the attempt made by Henry Gallagher, convicted deserter from Uncle Sam's army and navy, to escape from the military prison during the annual ball given by the Federal officers on Alcatraz Island last Tuesday night.

In some mysterious fashion Gallagher procured an elaborate costume of feminine attire, a stolen gown of modish cut, a wondrous hat of mammoth size, a filmy veil, and gloves of dainty texture. In a manner equally as mysterious the prisoner donned the regalia and walked unnoticed from his cell to the ball room, where, still unnoticed, he seated himself in a quiet nook at the rear.

The gay throng of ladies and gentlemen, in dress uniform, absorbed in jest and repartee, paid no attention to the silent newcomer, or, if they gave him a thought, concluded that he was merely a chaperon for some of the young dancers.

Alarm Is Sounded

But, in the midst of the dance, which was one of the most brilliant functions ever given on the rocky island, a loud alarm was sounded from the prison, and in an instant the gay ballroom scene was transformed into one of excitement and disorder. Sharp commands rang through the hall and with a hasty excuse to their fair partners the gentlemen fled outside. A prisoner had escaped and all the force was summoned in pursuit.

High and low over the rugged fastnesses of the mountain island the search was carried, but never a trace of the fugitive was found. Apparently he had disappeared as completely as though the sea had swallowed him.

But of a sudden some one in the ball room noticed that the quiet chaperon with the gigantic hat had disappeared from her seat in the rear of the ballroom. Where was she? they queried. A search was instituted, futile at first, but leading finally to the door of the hospital where the searchers were met by Steward Kingslow, who disclosed any knowledge of the escape and declared that he had seen nothing of a strange woman.

Hides in Locker

But the soldiers stalked past him and began to rummage in the lockers with a huddled up in one of these they found the "lady" of the modest and retiring demeanor. The huge cherry trimmed hat was crushed and the silken gown was crumpled and when the shy chaperon stepped shrilly from her retreat one of the soldiers indignantly seized the gorgeous creation and tore it from her fair head. But femininity.

Before the searchers stood Gallagher, pale but smiling, and he chuckled audaciously as he tore the dainty gloves from his hands and extended them to the waiting manacles. The search was over, and the dance was resumed with somewhat reduced vivacity and without the retiring chaperon.

Gallagher is a deserter from the Coast Artillery at Fort Barry, San Francisco; deserted from the United States navy, with two years more to serve on the rock of Alcatraz. He had already served half a year of his sentence.

MISS WALKER MARRIES SENATOR SMOOT'S SON

Miss Margaret Walker, daughter of David P. Walker, president of the defunct California Ship Deposit and Trust Company of San Francisco, who took his family boat after the crash, was married in Salt Lake to the son of Utah's Mormon Senator, Reed Smoot Jr., five days ago. The young couple have returned to San Mateo, the bride's former home, and are spending their honeymoon at the Hotel Peninsula.

At the time Walker and his family departed it was said that they had gone farther East than Utah, and the wedding of Miss Walker and the younger Smoot was a surprise to the girl friends of the bride.

Massacres Continue in Turkey

British cruiser Diana came into port today.

TARSUS, Asiatic Persia, April 23.—The rioting that originated at Adana broke out here April 16. A few Armenians were killed, the whole Armenian quarter was burned and the churches were sacked.

More than 4000 refugees are still gathered in the grounds of the American College. Their condition is pitiful. The missionaries at Tarsus are safe, but they are still apprehensive for the refugees.

Massacres are raging today in the neighboring villages and instant relief is needed.

Americans Killed

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 23.—A cablegram received here today from Mersina sets forth conclusively that both Henry Maurer and D. M. Rogers, American missionaries, were killed during the rioting at Adana.

ALLEPO, Asiatic Turkey, April 23.—Many refugees have arrived here from the Alexandretta district. Their condition is miserable. Intense alarm exists among the Armenians still of recurrence of the attacks upon them.

In Great Fear

ALEXANDRETTA, April 23.—Fugitives who arrived yesterday relate that all the Armenian villages and settlements in the Alexandretta district are being destroyed. Nearly every Armenian dwelling has been burned and the Armenians surviving are lying in the open and in great fear and especially of Friday and Saturday. The village of Jelani, a short distance south of Alexandretta, is holding out with difficulty against the Dromed tribesmen. The British warships which sailed to relieve Deirytul an Armenian village on the coast returned to Alexandretta today without accomplishing anything. The commander of the vessel applied to the governor of the district for permission to land a relief party but he was refused. Two more British war vessels are expected shortly. One of the other foreign warships in port left today for Beirut.

Corner in Wheat Market Causes Suicide

DENVER, April 23.—The recent skyrocketing in wheat and flour may have been responsible for the suicide early this morning of an unknown German, apparently about 50 years of age, who deliberately threw himself underneath an inbound car at Fifteenth street and Cleveland place.

The unknown man was dragged nearly a block his body being terribly mangled. It is believed he came to Denver recently from Chicago. Clippings from Chicago papers but a few days old were found in his pockets, all of them containing articles on the wheat and flour situation.

Elopement Ends in Divorce

Superior Judge Harris this afternoon granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Gertrude McGree on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide.

It was developed during the testimony of Mrs. McGree that she and her husband eloped in 1904, and were married in San Rafael. The returned home immediately after the marriage, and she told the court that for that time up to the present they had never lived together.

STEWART DIES AT WASHINGTON

When the silver party sprang up in Nevada in 1890 Stewart took notice. When it swept the State he cultivated its favor. The result was that in 1893 he was elected. During the silver agitation that marked the first Bryan campaign and lasted for several years Stewart held himself aloof from the Republican party, but not long after his second election in 1899 he went back to his first love. This move lost him his following, and in 1905 although the Republicans controlled the Legislature the man who was sent to the Senate was not named Stewart. It was his successor, Senator Nixon of Wisconsin, who a few years before had loaned him $2500 at a time when "Silver Bill" was broke. With this money Stewart had made $100,000 out of Goldfield investments only to lose it all by luckless speculation. Then the old Senator, his flowing beard white as the mountain snows, started in all over again and found another income in the venture of running a train of milk wagons to Hull, Ark. and Manhattan. To the day of his death Stewart was never at a loss for profitable ideas. Fortune threw him again and again, but no sooner was he down than he hopped up smiling as confident of his powers as the day he left Yale to conquer the big world that had sought to make him a wastrel at 17.

CHORUS GIRL'S DIVORCE CAUSE

Berkeley Doctor Caught in Act By His Wife; Pleads For Secrecy

Finally appeared upon the scene. Southern had always been very affectionate and good to his wife. He first met his wife in September, 1907, to the best knowledge of Mrs. Southern, and in December following he introduced Miss Wisner into his own home. The testimony tells the balance of the story best.

Husband Grows Cold

Q—Was there any change in his conduct from that time?
A—Well, he wasn't so affectionate; he was gradually losing his affection for me.
Q—Who is Freda Wisner; do you know what her profession was?
A—She is an acrobat; professional chorus girl.
Q—Variety actress?
A—Yes.
Q—Up to the month of September, 1907 your husband had been very affectionate with you, shown you marks of affection such as is customary, kissed you upon entering and leaving the house?
A—Yes.
Q—From that time on did he continue to kiss you?
A—Yes until May, 1908.
Q—What, if anything, occurred in May?

Arms About Her Neck

A—On May 26 I found him in Miss Wisner's room with his arms around her neck and her arms around his neck. Then he came to my room and asked me to forgive him and not to say anything to the police. I told him I couldn't agree to that. The more I thought of the escapade the worse it got.
Q—When he said not to tell the police, who did he mean?
A—His father and mother were living in the same home with us.
Last September Mrs. Southern was ill and he had to go to a hospital. When she returned home she asked the doctor if he thought she would ever get well and he replied: "If you do get well what do you intend to do anyway?" His manner was distant and cold toward his wife. He did not kiss her at all during the time she was in the hospital not even on their wedding anniversary which fell on September 19. With reference to this matter Mrs. Southern testified as follows:

Refuses to Kiss Her

"I was not feeling very well that day, and I said to my husband: 'This is our wedding anniversary.' He made no reply but asked if there was anything he could do for me. I replied: 'No; the only thing you can do for me is to kiss me.' It is our anniversary and I would like to have you kiss me," but he refused to gratify my wish."
Mrs. Southern testified that she was driven from her home one night about 9:30 o'clock into a pouring rain at a time when she was in a very bad physical condition from heart trouble. That was in last January and the same month she lost her child by death.
Q—What was the demeanor of your husband toward you immediately after the death of your child?
A—He was very distant. He did not come to me or console me in the least. The child was four years old when it died.

Many Photos of Girl

Mrs. Southern went to her husband's office in Dwight way, Berkeley, one day. The doctor was not in. She found thirty-eight photos of Freda Wisner on his desk and appropriated them. They were introduced during the trial as evidence against defendant. Mrs. Southern did not tell the commissioner how many times she had seen the doctor and Miss Wisner together. She used to go to his office in Berkeley and San Francisco and stay there three and four hours a day.
Mrs. Southern testified that the doctor had an income of about $250 a month from his profession all the time she lived with him, but since the earthquake he had purchased her nothing but a dress and a hat. The dress cost $15. The dress she wore when he testified was a birthday present from her sister and she had to borrow money from Southern's mother with which to buy underwear and other necessary wearing apparel.

At Idora Park

There is another chapter in the story of Dr. Wisner's infatuation with Miss Wisner that was not brought out by the divorce proceedings, but is nevertheless interesting. From all that can be learned of the young woman her stage experience is limited to chorus work. It is light opera at Idora Park during the engagement of Arthur Cunningham there about three years ago. Her father and mother and a sister were killed in the demolition of the old Empire Theater, corner of Twelfth and Broadway, during the earthquake leaving her absolutely destitute.
Miss Wisner appeared at the park regularly every night until one evening when her voice gave out. Dr. Southern happened to be in the audience on this occasion and was called into the young woman's dressing room to give her professional attention. This was the beginning of his attentions to her. Afterwards and as long as she sang at the park the doctor was with her every evening and most of the time throughout the day. Being a married man and a member of the faculty of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco as well as a rising young doctor and prominent in secret society circles on both sides of the bay his attentions to this pretty young chorus girl soon became a scandal.

Stays in His Home

Under the pretext of taking medical treatment, Miss Wisner stayed at Dr. Southern's Berkeley office almost constantly and finally the specialist succeeded in installing her in his own home by explaining to his wife that she was a poor, unprotected girl in need of friends, and would make a congenial companion for Mrs. Southern.
The latter parted Miss Wisner from the house just as suddenly as she had been reluctant to receive her into her home as a companion when she discovered the scandalous relations between her husband and under woman under the family roof.
Miss Wisner is now a student at the University of California, but it is not publicly known who is paying for her education.
Mrs. Southern was a Miss Brand and belongs to a very influential family of Tasmania. Her father is a high Mason and a wholesale grocer and is universally esteemed by his fellows.

Honor to the Bankers of Oakland

The note of final preparation for erecting the Bankers' Hotel follows close on the whirlwind campaign to raise the money to erect a new Y. M. C. A. building. The assured success of both these splendid public undertakings is practically a simultaneous development of the most satisfactory character. It sounds a high and jubilant note of progress. It tells a story of enterprise and public spirit in a language more eloquent and convincing than words.

All honor to the bankers of the city. In the face of many discouragements and obstacles they have quietly gone on perfecting their plans to build a great hotel of the most modern type in Oakland. While financial depression caused embarrassment and compelled delay, the bankers have never abandoned or lost faith in the enterprise. They never relinquished their purpose to carry it to a successful completion. Circumstances arose that made a revision of plans and estimates necessary, nevertheless the projectors went forward in a spirit of determination, wrestling with the problem of ways and means with quiet resolution.

At last the goal of success is before them. The scope of the enterprise and the method of financing it have been finally decided upon, and as soon as the revised plans of the architects are perfected work will be commenced. Doubt and discouragement have vanished, all questions of expediency have been resolved. The bankers have fully decided to go forward with a hopeful courage that dismisses all doubts of success and fears of failure. Their determination will be an inspiration to the entire community, which is now under every obligation to co-operate with energy and substantial support.

Having been canvassed from every point of view, there remains no doubt that the Bankers' Hotel will be a paying proposition if properly managed. On this point the projectors have informed themselves fully, availing themselves of every source of information within their reach. And the delays caused by unforeseen circumstances are not without compensating features. The cost of construction will be materially less than it would have been a year ago. Also the revised plans will lessen the expense of operation and afford a larger margin for profit. Still the new hotel will be a model of architectural beauty in its exterior lines and of convenience and comfort in its interior arrangement. It will embody some original features that will make the hotel peculiarly attractive and give it an individuality of its own that will make it notable to the traveler. It will be something distinct in its line, as the old Palace was in San Francisco. It will advertise Oakland to all the world as being a delightful place to stop in and as having one of the finest hotels on the continent.

In the final analysis the credit for this must be given to the bankers who projected the enterprise, and who have clung to it with courage and resolution, and have at last placed it beyond the vicissitudes of failure. But while we give them credit, it is also incumbent upon the citizens of Oakland to come forward with substantial support to their efforts.

SALT WATER PLANTS WILL MEAN A SAVING

Pumps in the salt water sprinkling plant will be located at First street and Fourteenth avenue, First and Grove streets, First and Webster streets and at Twentieth and Harrison streets. According to estimates made these four stations will more than pay for themselves this summer and will thereafter effect a saving of at least $5000 a year.

City Engineer Turner states that salt water is much preferable for laying the dust, as it forms a crust, which holds dust particles together better than fresh water. If the present salt water system comes up to expectations it will be endorsed.

During the automobile races he saw a man from New York City, known that the State of Georgia was in a position and expecting to find the on tight in Savannah they venture to locate a "speak easy." It was just then a large Irish policeman was overtaken by the boys. Taking him to one side he was asked in a very confidential way if he could give them a tip as to where a stranger could get a little drink "in case of sickness." He at once led the strangers down the street and halted in front of the Benedictine Friary Church, and pointed to the handsome building. Almost overcome with astonishment one of the youths said: "My goodness, officer, you don't mean to tell us we can get it here?" "No," replied the copper, "but you can get it anywhere else but here."

In the outer room of a New York office this sign was posted a few days ago: "Please do not whistle, we do all that ourselves." The messenger boys on service in the building evidently saw a funny side to the notice, for within an hour more than twenty of them asked: "When do you begin?" "How much for a ticket?" and similar queries. The sign came down after two days, and the manager of the office has had it replaced by one bearing in aggressively bold letters simply the words "Don't whistle."

John Payne tells of an American tourist hailing from the West who was out strolling in London. 'Oh, is it?' replied the American blandly: 'Well, that ain't nothing.' I nearly tripped on the blame thing myself."

New York's Big Smuggling Ring.

The Treasury Department is evidently hot on the trail of a gang of Eastern importers and dressmakers which has grown immensely rich by smuggling costly garments manufactured in Paris and selling them to their wealthy customers as if they had passed regularly through the custom-house and paid the duties. The gang is said to have operated for over ten years past through a New York firm of importers of dressmakers' supplies which has maintained an office in Paris serving as a clearing-house for fashionable American dressmakers scattered all over the United States. The Treasury Department estimates that the government has been defrauded during the period the gang has been at work at the rate of $500,000 a year. It is estimated that last year's losses reached the enormous sum of $1,000,000.

One of the methods of the ring has been to keep track of rich American women returning home from a trip to Europe, and shipping in their names in traveling trunks to follow them what the customs officers have been deceived into believing was surplus baggage of partly worn clothing. The ring's operations were exposed through an accidental disclosure of this fraud. Another device was to import the goods under a fraudulent classification which admitted them under a 15 per cent rate when the correct classification would have subjected them to a 60 per cent duty. The success of this branch of the unlawful traffic implies perjury on the part of the importers and either official neglect or connivance on the part of the customs inspectors. A third method was to leave traveling trunks on the steamship piers until such time as they could be surreptitiously removed without detection.

Strenuous efforts have been made to induce the Newport collector of New York, Roosevelt's ex-private Secretary Loeb, to discontinue the investigation. The first approachment made through attorneys representing undisclosed clients, was to pay $60,000 penalty into the treasury as a settlement and the release of the goods seized. When Collector Loeb rejected the offer and announced his intention to confiscate the seizure, the bid was raised to $260,000 on the plea that the investigation, if persisted in, would drag into publicity and unpleasant notoriety some of the richest women of highest social standing in the country, although there is nothing to show that they were directly concerned in the fruits of the smuggling. Loeb promptly rejected the offer and has announced his intention to probe the operations of the ring to the bottom and prosecute every one of its members. This is the only just course to pursue, and it is the only way that the unlawful traffic can be stopped and the government recover its rightful revenues. The Treasury Department should back him up, also, in the investigation, which it doubtless will do without regard as to whom it will involve.

Changes in River Channels.

The Niagara river has been blocked for ten days with an ice dam sixty feet in height which threatens to divert the stream from its old-time bed into a new channel and change the whole character of the famous falls. While the main interest of the threatened change bears chiefly on the utility of Niagara Falls as a source of power for industrial uses, the ice jam is an ocular illustration of how similar agencies have altered the courses of other streams on the continent, and particularly in this State, which are not now flowing in their original beds or channels. The Niagara ice jam furnishes a rational explanation of what may have been one of the causes of the diversion of what are now known as the dead rivers of California whose beds are lined with a rich auriferous stratum. These dead rivers are now intersected by the channels in which the modern streams flow.

The dead rivers of California have been hitherto ascribed to glacial action. That is, the ice-flow of the glacial age of the northern hemisphere was assumed to have plowed out their channels along the flank of the Sierras and filled them with their own debris, and that an eruptive era followed later and buried them under a blanket of lava. But why the modern streams should not have followed the old water courses, where the lines of least resistance were to be encountered, and instead cut new and deeper channels through the solid rock at many points at right angles from the ancient river bed, has been a subject of scientific speculation. The formation of the Niagara river ice dam and the influence it threatens to exert by diverting the stream into a new channel unless the barrier is removed by artificial means, suggests the possibility that the changes which have occurred in the courses of many of the streams on the western side of the continent were produced by agencies of a similar character.

Electric Iron Ore Smelting.

A new electric iron smelter erected at Heroult in Shasta county is now running in full blast producing pig iron on a commercial basis. The inventor of the process erected an experimental smelter to demonstrate on a small scale the feasibility of smelting iron ore with electric heat. While Heroult succeeded in producing pig iron from the ore, the experiments were not commercially successful. The practical demonstration made with this small experimental smelter of the soundness of the theory induced Professor Lyon and his assistants at Stanford University to follow up Heroult's ideas and perfect his system. The big smelter now in operation is the result of his investigation and improvements in the method of applying electric heat for iron smelting. So confident has Professor Lyon been all along that the new electric smelter would be a complete success as a commercial venture in the production of pig iron, that he resigned from the Stanford faculty to take charge of the new works.

The successful employment of electric heat for iron ore smelting has been the dream of inventors for many years. Edison worked vainly for a long time to develop a practical electric smelter. It is a source of pride to every Californian that one of his fellow citizens has perfected a system and that the first practical demonstration of its complete commercial utility is being made in this State.

There are vast deposits of high grade iron ore in California. The deposits in Shasta are practically inexhaustible. Other equally large deposits exist in San Luis Obispo county and in the Minaret Mining District in Madera county. Lack of cheap smelting fuel has hitherto been the stumbling block in the way of commercially utilizing these deposits. Twenty or twenty-five years ago, the Union Iron Works, then under the control and management of the late Irving M. Scott, attempted to smelt the iron ore deposits near Clipper Gap, Placer county, using charcoal as a fuel; but the cost of the latter, the difficulty of getting a constant supply and other adverse causes made the enterprise unprofitable and it was abandoned.

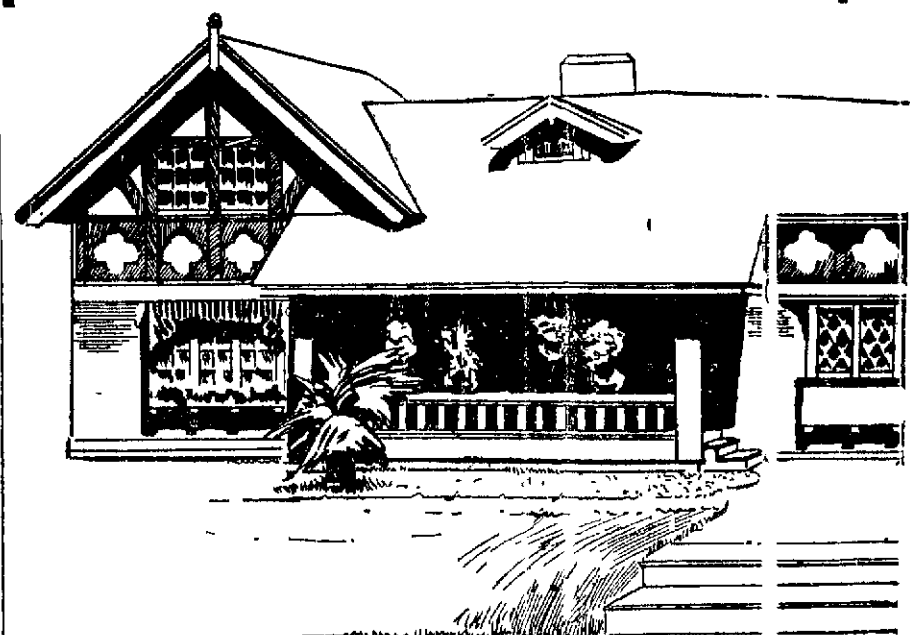

The production of cheap pig iron in this State is a development of the greatest importance to all of its iron industries. It places them on a new footing. It disposes of the necessity of importing pig iron at great expense from distant points by land and sea. The success of the Heroult smelter will, moreover, be apt to revolutionize the whole system of iron smelting elsewhere, for electric heat developed from the water courses is the cheapest form of heat now known and its profitable employment in the industry will doubtless result in its substitution for the infinitely more costly coal and coke fuel now in general use.

The Savannah Press complains that the justices' courts in Georgia are little more than collection agencies, the machinery of the criminal law being employed by them to coerce poor debtors into paying disputed claims of doubtful legality. It charges that the expense of collecting bad debts in this way is charged up to the taxpayers, while poor men are blackmailed by criminal process into paying unjust and illegal claims. This reproach does not lie against the Georgia justice courts alone. Many examples of the same abuse are afforded in California. In San Francisco the justices' courts have long sustained close if not illicit relations with collection agencies, but as they have been shorn of criminal jurisdiction they can no longer employ criminal process for the collection of debts. In the interior counties, however, it is notorious that the criminal law is continually used as a club against debtors, charges of swindling, larceny and obtaining goods under false pretenses being trumped up to make the alleged debtor come through. By this method disputed claims are collected at the expense of the State and persons exempted from execution are dragged into paying uncollectible and often blackmailing claims. This is a crying evil and one of long standing. It involves corruption in the petty judiciary as well as imposition on the public and oppression of individuals.

The Patten wheat shortage bubble seems to have burst already judging from the panic which has seized the Chicago wheat pit and the tumble that is taking place in the prices of future deliveries. Patten has fled from the scene of his operations to seek a rest from his strenuous gamble and to escape the wrath of his victims and public execration; but he is said to have shrewdly sold out his holdings and cleaned up by the operation a round $1,000,000. The principal feature of the next few days' developments in the wheat pit will be counting the wrecks and the ruined fortunes for which he has been directly responsible.

The success of the Chamber of Commerce in doubling its membership and of the Young Men's Christian Association in raising its building fund has inspired the Young Women's Christian Association to start a campaign to double its membership. That they are sure to succeed in the effort goes without saying.

ELKS ARRANGE TO HOLD BIG JINKS

Yappa Kappas to Give Camp Meeting to Celebrate Anniversary

BERKELEY April 23.—The Berkeley Elks will hold their first jinks of the year next Wednesday night, admission being to Elks only. The show will be in charge of Clinton R. Morse assisted by William Such, Sam H. Todd and Michael Healey.

The Yappa Kappas will hold a camp meeting joint with the jinks to celebrate the anniversary of the foundation day of the clan. Yappa Kappa is the oldest body of boosters known to history having been founded by Noah the Norse, Adhumbia and the Greeks Ducajian and Phylla immediately after the flood to relocate corner lots and boost the market then somewhat bearded by shock demand. The local body was recently organized by C. R. Morse and T. W. Conner, who obtained a charter while in Asia last year from the Mother Lodge No. 21 at Arai which has for its Supreme Ruler the well known philosopher, Socrates.

CHAMBER ELECTS NEW PRESIDENT

Dr. Frederick D'Evelyn Selected to Succeed Councilman Hammond

ALAMEDA April 23.—Dr. Frederick D'Evelyn was unanimously elected president of the Chamber of Commerce last night. Councilman Hammond resigned in taking the club the new president said.

Alameda is not in the general acceptance of the club a commercial center, a place of great stores and large factories. None the less it has a business potentiality which we cannot even if we dared ignore. This fact justifies and demands the existence of a Chamber of Commerce where business interests may be considered adjudicated upon and out lined amidst an environment perfectly honest and unbiased. Here the merchant will find a faithful ally in which his interests can be protected and sustained and systematically and that too in a manner which gives him the strength of cooperation but does not in the leastwise curtail his rights and privileges as an individual under why should not every Alameda business man recognize these advantages making such a success in his business and loyalty and energetically support the agency with which such advantages are rendered possible. The possibilities of the Chamber of Commerce as an aid to the man of trade are as many as the fingers of the hand. He can find in the progress of the business of personality. He can find in its utility. Alameda is a beautiful town. It is a community welfare. There can be found a reason for a forum where in he can turn up any and all subtle in any way are applicable to associated with the welfare of Alameda.

The Chamber of Commerce can be and is indeed such an agent and in that way, sense is an absolute requirement in Alameda.

CITIZENS ENDORSE RAISIN DAY IDEA

Chamber of Commerce Asked to Urge Purchase of Hirschfeld Tract

ALAMEDA April 23.—At the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night a communication was read from the East 122nd Improvement Club of Alameda asking the cooperation of the commercial body in urging the City Council to purchase the Hirschfeld tract adjoining Lincoln Park to the north and the extension of Harrison street around the east end from Park street north to Park street south.

Delaney last night gave the Chamber of Commerce authority to obtain a delegation of school children from Chicago at Lincoln Park on May 15 when the grounds will be thrown open for public use.

Secretary Ralph A. Russell was appointed a delegate to the California Promotion Committee which convenes at Del Monte on May 24.

Albert G. Burns who has just returned from an Eastern trip told of the treatment he received at the hands of the various Chambers of Commerce in the East when he presented a letter from the Alameda Chamber of Commerce. It was taken all over the different cities of Commerce and they treated me exactly the same note from the local Chamber of Commerce did the trick.

A motion made by President D'Evelyn to call for endorsement of the day carried. President D'Evelyn stated that the services of the Columbia Park Boys' band had been secured for the 30th of July.

Three new members, Guston Vanlen, Abeche T. J. Smith and Dr. R. Schroeder were taken into the Chamber.

The banquet to be given by the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday evening May 6 was discussed last night and Delaney stated that he had sold thirty tickets in one day and that every other director should do the same thing.

WANT ATCHISON FOR INSPECTOR

Improvement Club Asks Council to Appoint Him as Building Examiner

ALAMEDA April 23.—The appointment of Gavin Atchison as building inspector of this city is being urged by the Alameda Improvement Club. At the meeting of the club last night passed a resolution asking the City Council to select Atchison as building inspector.

The club appointed a committee of three composed of George Fulton, J. G. Mehtena and N. C. Hawkins to attend every day at the City Council and to keep in touch with its transactions. The committee will make a report to the club as to what is being done in the Council and in this way the members can be kept informed on all affairs.

The question of building in Alameda and patronizing home industry was discussed by the members last night but no definite plan was formulated. The members of the club believe that the local merchants should be encouraged in this support by the residents and in this way boost the city.

N. C. Hawkins presented the club with a list of the members showing the business they are engaged in. The list is in a frame and will adorn one of the walls of the clubroom.

Six new members were taken into the club. They were: John D. E. J. Delaney, F. N. Delaney, Dr. C. L. Tisdale, Will C. Wood and Charles Adams.

GIRLS HELP SAVE THE Y. W. C. A. BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO April 21.—Over a hundred girls of the Young Women's Christian Association saved their building at 151 O'Farrell street from destruction last night by a $2000 fire which started in a flat occupied by Mrs. Viola Powell her two daughters and six boarders, at 1235 O'Farrell street.

The Y. W. C. A. girls dragged a large hose to the top of their building and spread wet blankets on the roof to prevent the fire spreading. The fire is thought to have been started by a lace curtain in Miss Cora Dowell's room blowing against a gas jet.

DR. TISDALE MAY BE RE-APPOINTED TO BOARD

ALAMEDA April 23.—Dr. Charles T. Tisdale of this city will in all likelihood be reappointed as secretary of the State Board of Medical Examiners by Governor Eli H. Hiram.

Dr. Tisdale has filled the position for eight years and in that time his office has grown to great efficiency.

At the recent examination held at the board there were sixty-nine applicants. Four of these successfully passed the examinations and were given their diplomas.

About Our Suits for $15.00

There's a world of difference between our $15 Suits and the average suits sold at the same price. We give the best suit values at any price, but we're particularly careful to get our $15 Suits better than anybody else's.

To do this we have to be content with a small margin of profit, but we know you'll want clothes again, and we want to give you such big values that you'll never be satisfied to wear anything but Keller Clothes.

We'll put our $15 Suits against anybody else's $15 and $20 Suits and leave it to you to be the judge. We'll gamble that you won't find a bit of difference—that cloths, linings and workmanship will be exactly the same. We'll sell you a fine hat or a good pair of shoes for what we save you on the suit.

At $15 we'll show you a big line of single and double breasted styles in all the new colors and blues and blacks.

Our better Suits are $17.50, $20, $22.50, $25, $30, $35 and $40.

INTERNATIONAL LAW CONGRESS

Noted Men to Take Part in Meeting Which Was Opened
Today in Washington

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Important phases of the international law will be discussed at the third annual meeting of the American Society of International Law, which begins its international meeting here today. The session will continue for two days. Among the speakers will be men of international reputation on such questions as the growth of the American system of international law, as compared with universal international law, the powers which an international court of arbitration should possess; political offenses in international extradition and the codifying of marine international law.

Elihu Root, president of the society, opened the meeting today, taking for the subject of his annual address "The Relation between the Jurisdiction of National Courts and International Arbitration."

About Arbitration

This was followed by a discussion of the topic, "Arbitration as a Judicial Remedy," among those taking part in the discussion being former Secretary of State John W. Foster, who dealt with English and American cases of arbitration, as did also Professor B. W. Agnew of the New York University Law School. Wayne MacVeigh spoke on the work at The Hague in matters of arbitration, while Senator Lulu Anderson, late special envoy from Costa Rica to the United States, covered Latin American cases.

President Taft, who is one of the vice-presidents of the society, will receive the members at the White House tomorrow afternoon and the conference will close with a banquet tomorrow night.

ORPHEUM BILL IS DRAWING WELL

Next Week Mme. Sandwina, Famous Athlete, Will Be
One of Attractions

MADAME SANDWINA
At the Oakland Orpheum

Joly Violenta, the Parisian dancer, has created a sensation at the Oakland Orpheum this week. Nothing just like her terpsichorean work has been seen at the vaudeville temple. She is the perfection of grace in her every movement, and with signor Arnaud has a series of dances that are brilliant specimens of art in the terpsichorean field.

Two dramatic sketches are on the program this week, these being played by S. Miller Kent and his company, and by Adeline Dunlap and Frank McCormick. Kent produces a comedy called "Marriage in a Motor Car," and the Dunlap-McCormick duo appear in "The Night of the Wedding."

Three lively youngsters, Stop, Mendinger and King, give a musical act that is pleasing. The Night of the Wedding, in clever fashion, the Four Castles Dancers appear in an acrobatic act. Chas. Matthews, the "human kangaroo," is on the bill, and other novelties are shown, including a realistic picture of Market street in San Francisco before the fire.

Next week Mme. Sandwina, a famous European athlete, will be one of the new attractions.

WORTH OF SILVERWARE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Silverware valued at $350 was stolen from the home of A. A. Colman at 101 Baker street.

WHO IS WILLING TO WED IN AIR?

Fourth or July Committee Seeks Couple to Marry
in Balloon

ALAMEDA, April 23.—A possible feature of the 4th of July celebration will be the marriage of an Alameda couple in an airship. The unique plan, never enacted before, will undoubtedly draw a large crowd to Lincoln Park, where the ceremony will be performed.

A couple in the air will be the first home of the bride and bridegroom, who will descend, will make a few repairs on the municipal wharf before moving their pile driver back to San Francisco, and then are now looking for a desirable couple.

There is no remuneration attached to the the airship nuptials, the committee agreeing that the couple themselves, in order to make the plan a pleasing one, must enter the spirit of the occasion, be a desirable couple, and the wedding bells will out in either the Kessler or the Stanley airship on the evening of July 4th, when Sarah and John will join hands in a happy union, and under the most romantic circumstances.

NEW WAREHOUSE IS NEARING COMPLETION

BERKELEY, April 23.—The piling for the new El Dorado Oil Works warehouse has been completed and the flooring for the new structure is being put down. The Merry-Well Company, who have charge of the building of the new structure, are now moving their pile driver back to San Francisco, and the frames for the warehouse will be erected next week. Several improvements to the existing warehouse are being planned for next month.

SERGEANT DILLON HAS PASSED AWAY

Well Known Officer Succumbs
After a Long and Meritorious Service

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Detective Sergeant Thomas Dillon, an officer who, in the 25 years of service in the local police department became known as the terror of crooks, succeeded in breaking up the notorious Far Flat gang, and during his long career he has been successful in capturing many of the most daring bandits of the coast, including the last of the Sully Gold Smelting Works at Crockett.

Causes of Death

It is said by many friends of the dead officer that he first contracted his illness, which resulted in his death, when he dove into the cold waters of the bay at Crockett, when the local officers were endeavoring to recover the gold bullion thrown into the bay by John Winters, the told thief who had tunneled into the vault of the Sully Gold Smelting Works at Crockett.

POLICEMAN IS BEATEN BY ROBBERS

THUG SEEKS TO MURDER WOUNDED OFFICER

Life Is Saved By Citizen Who Is Summoned to Scene

TRIO HELD AT BAY WITH LEVELED PISTOL

Four Men Are Placed in Jail as Suspected of Crime

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—His attention attracted by the suspicious actions of a trio of thugs, Patrolman M. Kirby last night trailed the suspects into a saloon at Twenty-eighth and San Jose avenues, where he became certain that the men were wrongdoers, and ordered them to come with him to the police station. Before he could protect himself some one, evidently an accomplice of the trio, struck him from behind with a chair, and he sank to the floor in a semi-conscious condition.

Instantly the thugs sprang upon their victim, and while two held the patrolman a third raised an iron bar and was about to dash out the brains of their victim when Detective Arthur McPhee, summoned by a citizen, who had fled from the place at the first sign of trouble, entered the barroom, and, with leveled revolver, held the trio at bay until Kirby had recovered sufficiently to manacle the would-be murderers. They were then taken to the Mission station and placed in the detainee tank.

Kirby then told of a fourth man, who had separated from the men when he had approached the four, which at that time were standing in front of a plumbing shop a half a block below the saloon. When he walked near the men one of them jumped on a wagon and drove rapidly away. On telling of the missing man, Kirby was ordered by Captain McManus to continue on the case. Kirby decided to visit the stables in the vicinity.

Finds Missing Man

Fortunately the third place he entered, the blackhouse stable on Valencia street, near Eighteenth, he came upon the missing man. Quickly covering him with his revolver, he marched the crook to the Mission station, from where he was sent with his accomplices to the city prison. There the four prisoners gave the names of Louis Bray, Alfred Treadwell, Thomas O'Brien and William Farley, the latter being the fourth taken into custody. In the wagon driven by Farley were found seven kegs of white lead, weighing 100 pounds each, and representing a total value of $55. This loot was stolen from the plumbing establishment from in front

J.B. BOWEN SUES FOR ALLEGED WAGES DUE

Brings Action Against Building Trades Council in Superior Court

FORMERLY BUSINESS AGENT OF THAT BODY

Claims $900 Is Still Coming to Him For His Services

J. B. Bowen, formerly business agent of the Building Trades Council of Alameda county, filed a suit in the Superior Court late yesterday afternoon against that organization to collect $900 which he alleges is due to him under the terms of his contract with the council as its business representative.

Bowen resigned his office with the council at the beginning of the recent municipal campaign, and it was alleged in certain labor circles that he had received at the request of the council for taking too active a part in politics and entering into an agreement with Dr. F. Jackson, candidate for mayor, to deliver certain labor votes to him.

The Real Trouble
Bowen denied this emphatically and judging from the suit now brought it would appear that the real trouble between him and the council was the disagreement with it this action seems to bring out. Bowen claims in his petition that on August 4, 1908, he entered into an agreement with the Building Trades Council to serve as its business agent for a term of one year, for which services he was to receive $6 a day.

He alleges that on February 5, 1909, the council wrongfully discharged him, he asks damages, which he claims represents the balance due on the contract.

MRS. F. H. SACHS DIES IN HONOLULU

Was a Sister of Alex. Hirshberg and Had Many Oakland Friends

News of the death of Mrs. Fanny Hirshberg Sachs, a sister of Alex. Hirshberg, a well known local cigar dealer, in Honolulu, last Tuesday, comes as a message of grief to many people in this city where Mrs. Sachs, before her marriage, was well known.

Death came late Tuesday evening after a short illness. Mrs. Sachs has been living in the islands with her husband, who is identified in the tobacco industry, for several years. She is survived by another sister, Mrs. George Mosbacher, of this city.

of which Kirby trailed the murderous bandits into the saloon.

Inquiry Is Made

Investigations are now under way to ascertain why the proprietors of the establishment allowed the thugs to make a rendezvous of their place and why assistance was not lent to the officer when he was first attacked.

Kirby is receiving the congratulations of his fellow police officers on his narrow escape from death. McPhee explains his presence in the locality as a mere coincidence. He was off duty at the time and was enroute to a friend's house when called into the saloon by pedestrians stating that trouble was brewing within.

APPROPRIATIONS ARE NEEDED EARLY

$300,000 Will Be Spent in Oakland This Year on Improvements

CITY ENGINEER ASKS FOR PROMPT ACTION

Work Can Be Done Cheaper in Summer and Will Mean a Saving

During the next fiscal year, which begins on July 1, it is estimated by city officials that $300,000 will be spent in betterments alone. This means that 99 per cent of the tax payers' money will be expended in a manner calculated to do the city the most good.

City Engineer Turner is very desirous that the various appropriations be made at once, so that the work of improvement can be done during the summer months. Last year about the same sum was expended in public improvements, but the work was done very much later than it should have been.

It should be impressed upon the City Council the advisability of acting immediately in matters pertaining to public improvement. If the money is not appropriated before the budget is fixed there will be lost to the city a whole season. The work can be done much more cheaply and much more conveniently in summer time than in winter.

Need of Promptness

"There will be approximately $300,000 available for public betterments. This sum is about the same as was expended last year. This represents 25 per cent of the taxpayers' money. I very improve made is an investment for the city. Each betterment made, in matter in which part of the city, increases the value of the whole. There are many projects already planned, including the improvement of the Electric street bridge, the building of large concrete culverts at the head of Lake Merritt, to do away with the flooding of Gaiter avenue during storms, also the placing of culverts in Denn Echo creek. There are also many street improvements to come. The necessary thing is to get the appropriations at an early date so that the summer working months may be utilized.

DIDN'T PROVIDE NEEDS OF LIFE SHE CLAIMS

Wanton neglect caused by idleness, profligacy and dissipation, is the ground upon which Vera E. Cochran is seeking divorce from Robert J. Cochran, whom she married for better or worse in July, 1903. Plaintiff alleges that because of her husband's utter uselessness she has not only suffered for the want of the common necessities of life, but has been obliged to accept help from relatives and friends to keep her out of the poorhouse. Her maid of honor was Cora E. Nelson and she asks the court to restore it to her.

REGULAR REVOLT HITS THIS TOWN

President of Benbow City Thrown Out of Power and Threats Made

BENBOW, Ill., April 23.—In a typical Venetian revolution, the government of Benbow City has been snatched from A. D. Benbow, its founder and president. The enemy is entirely hidden inside the city hall and violence will follow any attempt of the deposed president to gain control, according to a manifesto issued. This morning Benbow is the village what Castro is to Venezuela, except that he has control of the city treasury.

The Real Trouble

The trouble is this: The Illinois Legislature recently passed a law, by which villages of a certain class shall elect officers in the fall year. Mayor Benbow was elected prior to that law for a term of two years, and when the opponents called an election this year the mayor declared it illegal and refused to give up when he was beaten. Out of a male population of 600 Benbow City has 24 voting citizens, the remainder being foreigners. Sixteen of these twenty-four voted against Mayor Benbow. The Mayor seized the ballots and refused to let go his hold on the executive office. The present condition of affairs arises from this.

Potts, who is a contractor, says that he really meant to marry Mrs. Vanderbeck but she always put off the day and he grew tired.

THREE BROTHERS MARRY 3 SISTERS

The last wedding of three brothers to three sisters was solemnized recently in Fruitvale when Mrs. Jennie Frost became the wife of Lewis McCuen, formerly of New York.

The first romance was started twenty-two years ago when Miss Alice Berry, of San Francisco, became the wife of William J. McCuen, foreman of the cap-ters in the Western Meat company of San Francisco. She was one of the first settlers in South San Francisco and was married in Stockton twenty years ago by Rev. Mr. Needham.

The second matrimonial venture was that of Mrs. Flora Warner, who had been a widow for six years. She was married a year and a half ago to Nelson McCuen at the home of Mrs. William J. McCuen in San Francisco.

The last one to exchange vows was Mrs. Jennie Frost a widow who was married at the home of Mrs. Flora McCuen seven months ago, by Rev. Mr. Needham. She met the man of her choice while on a visit from the east. Rev. Edwin Kizer was the officiating clergyman at two of the weddings.

The brides were born in Ohio and came from a well known family. The north McCuens were reared in New York.

CHARGE AGAINST ARPER QUASHED

Arrest For Contempt of San Jose Court Nullified By Judge Brown

George W. Arper, who was arrested on a charge of contempt of court for refusing to obey an order issued by a justice of the peace at Santa Clara County, was released from custody by Superior Judge Brown this morning at the conclusion of the hearing of the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by his attorney. Immediately after his arrest Arper was only actually in custody for his own safety, as his arrest was based upon a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Brown on the following morning, but the hearing was postponed until today and Arper was allowed to remain in freedom in the meantime.

Arper's arrest grew out of a suit brought against him by the directors of an oil burner company which was organized in San Jose five years ago, but in which he was interested. He declares that when the company went out of business after the earthquake his liabilities amounted to but $25, while the company owed him more than $100. He says that he offered to cancel his claim on the company and call their accounts square, but that the directors, through the agency of a local attorney, refused to honor the judgment against him. Shortly afterward a San Jose justice of the peace ordered him to appear before a referee and undergo an examination, and upon his refusal to comply, he was arrested for contempt.

PLAYGROUND IS NECESSITY IN ALL CITIES

Graham R. Taylor Lectures on Recreation Centers For the Children

IMPROVES THE MORAL CHARACTER OF BOYS

Keeps the Youngsters From Crime and Out of the Hospitals

Graham R. Taylor of Chicago, an authority on playgrounds of national fame, delivered an enlightening lecture before a large audience of children and parents at common school assembly hall in Jefferson Park last night. He illustrated his remarks by several hundred stereoscopic views dealing with playgrounds in the city of Chicago, where Taylor was prominently connected with the establishment of the recreation park system—a system which the lecturer explained cost approximately $1,000,000 to install and $400,000 to maintain.

Taylor dealt with the remarkable growth of the playground movement in many of the large cities of the United States, stating that the number of such institutions had tripled during the last twelve months.

Need of Recreation

"The world has, generally speaking, been conducting an experiment without recreation," he said. "In Greek history we learn that the first war was fought at about the same time as the market place. The trade guilds of ancient days held various festive occasions in which singing, dancing and other amusements were indulged in, not alone by the children, but by the seniors. This showed conclusively that they realized the fundamental need of recreation. Now just at the time when we need recreation the most, owing to the present conditions in our complex city life and the intensity of our business activity, we are, comparatively speaking, working along without it. I cannot express too strongly upon your minds the benefits to be derived by the growing generation, as well as upon the general welfare of the community, by recreation parks in any municipality.

"We have a number of institutions exploited by private individuals which form the only amusement to a large number of our residents in many of our cities. Among these is the nickelodeon, the float theater, which is run solely for gain. Now I don't want to say anything against these places of amusement, for many of the shows are interesting and instructive. But don't you see how much better it would be if a number of such institutions were established and managed by the city for the free use of the children in conjunction with the playgrounds? It only goes to show that the managers of the live-on-theater have realized before the municipality the need of recreation."

Speaking of the juvenile court movement, the lecturer stated that in cities where the playground systems had been established for any length of time, the number of youthful criminals had diminished to a marked degree. Children who become delinquent, he said, become so because of conditions over which they had no control. Their surroundings at home in outdoor life especially had a great influence upon their minds at a receptive age. The playground, he declared, not only made them healthier in body, but exerted a marked uplifting influence on the mind to a corresponding degree.

"The playground," continued the speaker, "is compared to the hospital is also shown in a favorable light. As a preventive measure it is humane. The hospital is all right when a child is really sick and needs medical attention, but we want to get them before they are taken to the hospital. An adequate system of playgrounds in any city will mitigate to a great degree the necessity for children's hospitals and will exert a powerful influence on the health of the coming generation."

The lecturer stated that an ideal recreation system was a fundamental necessity for the whole people. Adults, he stated, as well as children, were in need of physical relaxation. A place for mothers to take their children—where the youngsters could amuse themselves with swings, teeter-borers and other recreational toys—the mothers could rest and take their sewing, was a necessity. A place for men and boys, too, he declared, with swimming pools and a gymnasium, was another necessity in a large city. He declared that the playground without an adequate supervisor or instructor was more injurious than beneficial.

A Great Blessing

"Many believe that the playground must necessarily be a luxury, but such is not the case. Playgrounds have been made triumphs of architectural beauty, of course, but they will suffer and signs of decay will become apparent if they are left entirely useless. But the equipment and the surroundings to the playground must be made attractive, better than home at all. A 60x80 sand lot with a swing and a board will do wonders for the children in the community. The establishment of wading and swimming pools by the municipality is a glorious thing in the advancement of children. An adequate recreation system is the greatest blessing in any city."

ELMHURST CLUB AND THE SEWERS

Promotion Club Members Also Favor the $75,000 Bond Issue

ELMHURST, April 23.—(The) Highland Promotion Club at a meeting held Wednesday night gave its endorsement to the action of the Grand Avenue and Hillside Improvement Club in its fight for sewers throughout the district. Attorney William addressed the meeting on the benefits to be derived from the proposed bond issue of $75,000 with which to furnish the installation of an adequate sewer system. The fact that a community did not have them, he said, frightened away those who otherwise would settle there. The petition for the sewers which is being circulated is being widely signed, and will be presented to the Sanitary Board for their action on the matter at the next meeting, which takes place the first Monday in May.

Are Laying Tracks

The Southern Pacific yesterday commenced laying track on its extension through the Stone tract, and it is stated that the service will be completed within a sixty days. A right-of-way of 80 feet has been secured and sidewalks laid throughout its entire length, about a mile. The terminus of the line will be a block south of East Fourteenth street, where the depot will be situated. As far as can be learned the depot building will be of cement and concrete after the fashion of the new building.

HAYWARD BARS POKER PLAYING

Mayor Heard Chips Rattling and New Order Is Given Town Watchman Pimental

HAYWARD, April 23.—A heated and lengthy argument between Mayor Charles Heyer and Night Watchman Frank Pimental culminated in the proceedings at Wednesday night's session of the Town Trustees. Heyer stated that poker games went on full blast after 10 o'clock each night without interference of the law.

Pimental denied that to his knowledge such a thing as gambling went on, but admitted that on a number of occasions when he had tried to investigate the source of noise behind closed doors he had been warned to keep away or be thrown out.

Mayor's Keen Ear

On any night, stated Mayor Heyer, the sound of chips and the popping of bottles could be heard during the wee small hours behind closed doors in the business district. It was given as the ultimatum of the Trustees that all stud horse or other gambling in Hayward must cease, and Night Watchman Pimental was instructed to report all such cases that came under his observation to the Board of Trustees instead of to the Town Marshal, as he had been doing in the past.

Just to take out the sting of the "certain lecture" Pimental's monthly salary was raised $10.

NERVOUSNESS DUE TO OVERSTUDY

Patient Almost Despaired of Recovery But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her.

Nervous exhaustion early shows itself in the decreased activity of the organs that normally cast out the waste products of the body. The kidneys, skin and bowels are deprived of some of their energy and a part of the poisonous waste materials, which they really pass off during health, are turned back into the blood. The result is a toxic condition for nervous troubles, by building up the blood and supplying it with added oxygen, builds up and casts off the impurities and gives to the nervous elements the energy they need. It would no other way, as these elements are conveyed to the nerves except through the blood.

Mrs. Grace W. Childen of No. 40 Adams street, Winter Hill, Somerville, Mass.

"I was afflicted with nervousness for nearly three years. The trouble began when I was 17 years old and was due, I think, to overstudy. I tried to get through quickly with the result that I broke down a year before I would have graduated. I had severe chills, spells, when I would turn purple, and fall down in faint. I would be perfectly rigid. These spells would last sometimes for two hours. After these spells I would be very nervous and have to be in bed for a week. The muscles in my face and neck were affected and I was worn out.

"The first doctor I employed said he did not know what caused my sickness, but that it was some kind of nervous trouble. I could not see that he helped me at all. I then went to a specialist in nervous diseases, but he also failed to help me. They said I would never fully recover. I had about given up hope when a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was willing to try anything that promised help and I glad I took the advice. The pills helped me and I took them regularly for a long time. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful medicine and I know they cured me. I have been in good health since taking them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, New York.

TO PUT DRAYING LAW IN FORCE

Southern Pacific Arranging to Carry Out Provisions of the New Wright Act

The Southern Pacific Company is making preparations to obey the Wright law, which was passed by the last legislature. This law has an important bearing on the manufacturing industries of Alameda county, as it will cause the manufacturers to do all their own draying. Heretofore the Southern Pacific Company has practically been doing the draying business for the factories in Alameda county.

Nearly all the factories in the county have spur tracks on which freight cars are being run for the purpose of being loaded with the goods of the concern interested. Under this system a manufacturer could have a car loaded with goods and loaded to the right place in the country. The railroad company would then haul this car to the West Oakland Railroad yards, where the goods would be distributed to the various cars consigned throughout the country.

No More Draying

In other words, the railroad company would do the draying and the distributing for the manufacturer. Under the Wright law, the railroad company can now only take from the manufacturer for their spur track a carload of goods consigned only to one consignee; and not less than a carload will be taken. The manufacturer, after May 1st, will be compelled to do his own draying and shipments to make, to draw his goods to the nearest agency of the Southern Pacific Company. It will therefore be seen that this law will force the Wright law, the manufacturers will have to stand considerable more expense in the shipping of their goods.

SEARCHING FOR WIFE MISSING EIGHT YEARS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Walter Diamond, a wine agent and clubman of this city, is seeking his wife, whom he has not seen for eight years, and who deserted him eight days after their marriage. If he is successful in his search for his missing wife, and if, as is rumored, she has not already secured a divorce, he will at once begin suit for a legal separation.

Some months ago Diamond received word that his wife was living in Oakland under the name of Madge Hoffman. However, he was unable to locate her. Diamond has retained Attorney Jacob Meyer to represent him in the proposed divorce, and the papers are ready for filing as soon as the missing wife can be located.

IDORA ACROBATS SUPERSTITIOUS

Potters Tell of Incident That Makes Them Dislike Bands Near Net

It is a well known fact that theatrical and show people are the most superstitious in the world. Should a member of an acrobatic team meet with mishap, the conditions and surroundings of that incident will always live with him, and no money on earth could persuade him to perform when the conditions are the same as on the day of the accident. That the Idora Potters, who are performing at Idora Park, afternoon and night, are no exception to the rule, Jack, the youngest in particular, is attested by a story told by the manager of the troupe.

The Potters arrived at Idora about a week before the opening of the park, and Harry Potter, who is the leader of the troupe, was superintending the erecting of the aerial bars on which the famous troupe performs. During the course of the work Potter turned to Superintendent Giesler and inquired if there was to be a band of music stationed near the act. When Giesler answered that the only band on the grounds was to be Patrick Giesler's, which was to be stationed near the new band stand quite a little distance from the aerial act, the leader of the six famous acrobats exclaimed that that would save no little amount of worry to the troupe. When questioned the elder Potter related the following:

Tumbles on Drums
"Two years ago we were performing at the State Fair in Ohio. As our act was the feature of the afternoon performance the management stationed the band directly behind the end of the net. The band was a large one and contained a pair of kettle drums besides the usual equipment. We had recently been practicing some new turns, in one of which I hung by my knees and caught Jack at the finish on a two and a half twist. From the middle bar I signaled to the performer on the middle bar to swing Jack for two and a half. Well, he came through the air all right, doubled up and going like a pin wheel. At the critical moment when he should have broken and caught my outstretched hands he failed to do so. Past the bar he went all turning somersaults, but instead of landing in the net he went farther out, and came down by one of the kettle drums. Jack was bruised up a little and required a day or so to fully recover. However, he does not care to have the incident repeated and every time he sees a white flag the band he can hardly get through with the act."

LAD BADLY INJURED BY SPEEDING AUTO

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Seven-year old Bobbie Wilson, who lives at 3517 Nineteenth street, narrowly escaped death this morning while crossing Valencia street in front of the Horace Mann school. At the corner of Twenty-second street, an automobile driven by Floyd D. Lord, and carrying Dr. Alfred Weil of 1817 Jackson street, struck the boy to the street, but luckily did not run over his body. Though the youngster received many painful lacerations, he sustained no fatal injuries, and will soon be on his feet again.

GEORGE GREEN DISPLAYS OLD-TIME ABILITY AND BESTS BURGESS

GREAT CLEVERNESS WINS FOR VETERAN RING FIGHTER

Old Timer Displays Cleverness Not Seen in Local Ring for Years and Wins Easily From Burgess.

By EDDIE SMITH.

LAST evening at the West Oakland Club curiosity led me to the dressing-room of old George Green. I found, if ever, have I visited a boxer on the eve of a contest, but last evening an itching inquisitiveness forced me to visit the fighter who some dozen years ago was acknowledged one of the premier middle-weights of his country, and who about seven years ago had thrown down the labor of a pugilist and retired from the game.

As we walked into the room the old-timer was arguing over the referee and the division of the purse with all the pepper of his younger days. With an almost positive knowledge that he was arguing for a cut of the money that would give him at least half of it if he lost, we approached nearer, and when we heard what he was saying we almost tumbled. There was that old-timer arguing that he wanted the purse money to go all to the winner. "Can you beat it?" As we walked from the room the fans looked at one another, and one fellow said: "Poor old George, he will be lucky if he is on his feet after he gets walloped twice."

Great Cleverness

Perhaps the fan was right and old George had been hit twice in his career, but when the old-timer started he was never headed nor second and during the six rounds he boxed with Red Burgess he was not hit one real solid punch. From the moment that the bell rang Green started to feint and ducking and dodging, and in two minutes Burgess was floundering over the ring, pawing at the elusive Mr. Green like a hawk chasing a fleet winged bird.

Had Green had a tough fellow for his first work out it would have been hard to locate one whose ability to take punishment and keep coming was greater than Burgess possesses. In the opening round Burgess was told by his second to tear right into the old timer and keep on top of him, it being their intention to tire the old fellow out.

Such a display of clever side-stepping, feinting, foot work, ducking and clean hitting has not been seen in an Oakland ring for so long that it is hard to remember back to the time and the faster Burgess came the more he missed. Green would walk to the center of the ring and Burgess would come rushing at him and with all his old-time coolness and a judgment of distance that was surprisingly good, the old-timer would feint to counter and then step away, and again making the red-tired fighter fall against the ropes.

Burgess Surprised

To say that Burgess was surprised would be putting it altogether too lightly for he was simply bewildered after the first two rounds had been fought and the old-timer had him at his mercy. With his great cleverness Green took the confidence out of the aggressive Burgess and in the contest was half over he had completely tamed him.

When Green first started the spectators were thunder struck by the flash of old time cleverness in display, but they did not allow their enthusiasm to blind them for they feared that it would be but a flash in the pan and that he would soon burn out, but that idea of a lump would were it not supplied with oil.

As the contest progressed however the well filled house began to realize that the old fellow had a great chance to win and then they started to yell and before the contest was over every man in the house was yelling out his praise of the old-timer. At the end of the contest when Green was given the victory, Burgess stood by as if he realized that he had lost, but as he stepped to the ring to shake hands with the victor he was surprised to find that the former star had made a good showing.

As soon as the referee had loosened the arm of the winner Burgess grasped in hand and shook it with a friendly smile, and then he turned to the crowd and praised the victor for his great showing.

Keller's Good Work

Green is now going on his thirty-seventh year on old mother earth and he has not been in a ring for at least seven years, but the display of cleverness on his part last evening and the even showing which he made as a baby of Burgess should be a lesson to the rising generation of pugilists to learn the art of boxing before entering the ring.

Louck's Work Again Shoves Stockton to Front

Stockton 3; Oakland 0
STOCKTON, April 23.—Never has there been such excitement in Stockton as at present over baseball. The series with Oakland had set the whole town wild about the national game and to add fuel to the fire the "Champs" yesterday exchanged places again in the standing of the clubs. The Millers won principally through the excellent pitching of Louck and the superb fielding and batting of the "Champs". Louck pitched a one-hander and scooped up a low liner back of third. Third base was as far as Louck allowed any of the batters to go.

LEAVES HIS WEALTH TO WOMAN WHO REFUSED HIM

PORTLAND, Ore., April 23. — Requested a large fortune by a man whose offer of marriage she refused in Kansas City twenty-five years ago. Mrs. E. M.
Blankenship of Portland is preparing to go to Missouri to claim the property. She has received a letter from a Kansas City firm of lawyers announcing that she had valued at $1,000,000, by Graham Jewell.

When she was visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. L. Smulwood, Olive street, Kansas City, in 1884, Josie
Howe, then a girl of seventeen, met Jewell. He fell in love with her, but she declined the proffer of his heart and hand.
Mrs. Blankenship is living here with her husband and three children.

SILK PLANTS TO COME TO AMERICA

Concerns Representing $10,- 000,000 Will Leave Southern France, Is Claim

NEW YORK, April 23. — That a combination of silk industries in southern France, representing $10,000,000 of capital, will transfer their plants to this country was stated by Jean Duplan, head of a large silk dye works at Hazelton, Pennsylvania.

"I was commissioned," said Duplan,
"to look into conditions in the silk trade in this country with the object of ascertaining for French silk manufacturers whether it would be advisable for them to transfer their plants."

"D. A. Gillet represents a combination of silk industries of southern France, which takes in weaving, dyeing and other silk establishments, and has plans that are worth $10,000,000. I made a report to him recently that it would be advisable that the French establishment be transferred to this country and as a result, the French industries will locate here."

Duplan said that already a co-operation had been effected with one large silk dyeing establishment in Paterson, New Jersey, and that the purpose of the banding institutions of France was acting as financial backer of the transfer.
He said the principal reason for the transfer was the fact, inasmuch as there is a great lessening of the profits of the French silk manufacturers, who find the American market the largest buyer of their products.

"A HUMAN SLAVE" AT BROADWAY NEXT WEEK

At the Broadway Theater, this week, the national drama, "Valley Forge," is playing to crowded houses.

In response to the numerous requests that have been made by the patrons of the Broadway Theater for an early presentation of the great scenic play, "A Human Slave," Manager Guy C. Smith has made every arrangement with the agents of William Lynch Robert, the author of the drama so that it can be produced here in Oakland next week with matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

The play is considered one of the most powerful and best on the stage today that offers in a striking and graphic manner the capital and labor problem. Some of the scenes are stupendous, in the third act a rolling mill in aerial operation will be seen. All the incidents that go to make our monster steel shops what they are today in Pittsburgh will be vicariously portrayed.

The character of the drama has necessitated the gathering of a strong company among women will be many new faces who will have responsible parts.
The play will run all next week.

CHERRY FESTIVAL ON JUNE FIFTH

San Leandro Citizens Plan the Biggest Affair in the Town's History

SAN LEANDRO, April 23.—At a meeting held Wednesday night committees on the San Leandro Cherry Festival were appointed and the date for the gala occasion set for Saturday, June 5. On the general committee are C. Q. Hildout, chairman; George F. Cosby, secretary; I.
H. Begler, treasurer.

The following are the sub-committees:
Advisory, W. J. Locke, E. M. Smith,
J. J. Gill, W. B. Zambresky, George F.
Cosby; committee to procure cherries,
I. H. Begler, M. N. Avellar, F. C. Stokoe, U. S. Vager, E. H. Cary, A. A. Rogers, decoration, W. S. Edger, F. C. Stokoe, Alfred Knox, Mrs. W. S. Peters (president of the Alta Mira Club) and Mrs. F. Rawson; finances, I. H. Begler,
C. Q. Hildout, E. M. Smith, D. C. Tolles-man, J. A. Hildout; reception, presidents of the various fraternal organizations of San Leandro and a committee from each, W. S. Edger, M. Valencia, Frank J.
Silva, Bert Rogers, George F. Cosby, J.
J. Gill.

Elaborate Plans

Twenty thousand envelopes will be printed with the "court of arms" adopted by the committee, which will be a red and green wreath of cherries with the words, "Cherry Festival, San Leandro, June 5, 1909."

The festival will probably be the most elaborate of anything of the kind ever attempted before at this place. It is planned to have a baby parade, consisting of youngsters under the age of one year, prizes will be awarded the handsomest dressed babies and the most tastefully decorated babies. The provisional program also contains an automobile parade. The north side of Escudille avenue will be the center of activities on the great day, but the entire town will be in gala attire.

Women at Work

The women of the Alta Mira Club will co-operate with the various committees in making the festival an assured success. It is estimated that thousands of people from the cities about the bay will be attracted to San Leandro on this day. No one will be allowed to go out of town without a goodly quantity of cherries. San Leandro cherries, the fruit for which this place is famed, not only throughout the United States, but in Europe. It is even being stated that King Edward eats cherries shipped from San Leandro during the season.

Grand Master's Visit

San Leandro Lodge No. 231 entertained
Grand Master John E. Baker of Modoc county at a banquet and reception Wednesday night. Odd Fellows' Hall was lavishly decorated for the occasion and over one hundred sat down to a sumptuous spread. Addresses were made by Judge Ogden of Oakland, Grand Master
Baker and other members of the Odd Fellows lodge. The committee on arrangements consisted of Edward Hoerst, Charles Reed, W. B. Plummer.

MAN RELEASED BY MISTAKE CAUGHT AGAIN

The accidental freedom of Mike Kor-nisk, who was turned out of the city all Wednesday on a bond that had been issued for Nick Kornish, was cut short at the corner of Tenth and Franklin streets at 7:30 o'clock last night, when Kornish ran plumb into the arms of Patrolmen McKeehan and A. H. Smith. The man made no resistance when taken in charge by the officers, simply asserting that it was not his fault if the police officers turned him out by mistake.

Ask a business man what credit means to him, and he will say: "I couldn't stay in business 10 days without credit."

If credit means so much to a business man, what does it mean to the man in a salary? It means the difference between rent paying and owning a home; the difference between happiness and regret; the difference between satisfaction and discontent; it means you can have the use of the goods while paying for them. If you establish your
